Opening Relations with Corea

WASHINGTON, April 17—In the senate to day Sargent called up his joint resolution authorizing the president to appoint a commissioner to arrange a treaty with the kingdom of Corea. He referred to the great success of the United States in its measures for the same purposes with Japan the wonderful development of that people and the great trade [illegible] half grown up in American bottoms. He predicted 80,000 000 of people suddenly dropping their proud isolating policy opening relations with the civilized world and adopting the modes of advanced civilization. Before that period all the [illegible] territories [illegible] in stating that the Japanese [illegible] effete, barbarous, superstitious and [illegible] They had vindicated themselves as possessing stalwart manhood [illegible] and enterprising spirit [illegible] wonderful development [illegible] Japan, on the main land [illegible] possessing their coarse [illegible] for the United States [illegible] friendly hand and we [illegible] of the opportunity offered [illegible] article of treaty of 76 which provided [illegible] in a shipwreck of the people of any nation friendly with Japan they [illegible] be kindly treated. By that treaty an international ex[illegible] [illegible] was held by the two [illegible] which took place in October last [illegible] and was a great success. All trade with Corea is now confined to Japan. Some foreign goods reach Corea through that channel. The [illegible] of Corea [illegible] 10,000 000 though variously estimated at [illegible] [illegible] figures. He referred to the attack [illegible] in 186[illegible] by a French squadron for [illegible] killing of missionaries which was repelled also to the burning of the General Sherman, a so called American vessel in 1866 and killing of the crew and real anxiety [illegible] correspondence between Capt Shufeldt, U S N and the king of Corea the latter explaining that the vessel was engaged in piratical incursions and [illegible] the necessity that led to extreme measures which [illegible] were by local authorities and [illegible] under orders of the king. He described a subsequent visit five years after by a squadron under Commodore Rodgers U S N and deprecated the occasion [illegible] visit and the great and unprovoked slaughter of people and unusual loss of [illegible]. He said "Here is now a people numerous, contiguous industrious and receptive, ready for our advances needing our manufactures and promising an important trade. The trade with northern China would be increased by the security of navigation in the Yellow Sea. Our whalers in the Sea of Japan would be protected against a dangerous and hostile coast." He moved the reference of the resolution to the committee on foreign relations which was so ordered

The Four Per Cent Loan

WASHINGTON April 18—Subscriptions to the four per cent loan $216 000

Hearing in Regard to the Texas Pacific.

WASHINGTON, April 18—Gov John C Brown vice president of the Texas Pacific Railway Company appeared before the judiciary committee of the house yesterday in defense of that company's right to mortgage its property between Fort Worth and El Paso as an indemnity to the government for its proposed aid in securing the completion of the road through to the Pacific. Campbell attorney for French holders of bonds of the Memphis El Paso and Pacific Railroad Company had alleged that the charter of that company is still unimpaired and covers a line from Fort Worth to El Paso as well as a considerable portion of that already constructed. He further alleged that the foreclosure proceedings against that road were fraudulent and that any extension of the Texas and Pacific beyond Fort Worth must be made under charter of the Memphis and El Paso Company. Gov Brown produced the legislative records as proofs to show that the Texas and Pacific franchises were derived directly from the state of Texas and that the Texas and Pacific acquired a full and complete title and right to construct, by purchasing the property and franchises of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, a corporation created by the state of Texas four years before the Memphis and El Paso was acquired. This purchase was authorized by the Texas legislature and subsequently confirmed. The Texas and Pacific also purchased the franchise of the Southern Transcontinental, another Texas corporation which authorized them to build a road west from Texarkana to El Paso. He read from the record to prove that subsequent to these purchases the Texas legislature by its act of May, 1875 confirmed this purchase and transfer of the franchises and intend directly to put in operation, and construct a line from Fort Worth to El Paso. Under this act the company built 424 miles of road, which was accepted by the state government and land certificates issued in accordance with the act of the legislature. He read from the fourth annual report of the Texas Pacific giving a full account of the property acquired and showing that the company had made the purchase from the Memphis and El Paso to remove any doubt about its title and the sixteen mile reservation (not its land grant) which the legislature had declared forfeited to the Memphis and El Paso and had granted to the Texas and Pacific. The supreme court of the United States however had decided that the claim to this reservation by the Memphis and El Paso to be void. He claimed further that the Texas and Pacific paid to the Memphis and El Paso the full value of the property acquired from that company and further, that the Texas and Pacific derived no real advantage from the franchise of the Memphis and El Paso. Governor Brown charged that the opening of these old matters already settled was merely to injure the credit of the Texas Pacific and delay action on the pending bill, and that such delay could not be to the interest of Campbell's clients

The Adjournment Resolution

WASHINGTON, April 18—The vote by which the parliamentary entanglement of the adjournment resolution in the house was partially cleared, indicates unmistakably that the house will to morrow postpone consideration of the resolution until May 10th as recommended by the Democratic caucus. This action will not, however, save the tariff bill from defeat or to any practical extent improve its chances

Kidnapping

CHICAGO April 18—The Tribune's Washington special says It is reported that important documents are coming from Cuba as the result of Judge Leonard's visit, showing that the kidnapping of Florida negroes and enslaving them in Cuba has been carried on extensively.

Repeal Certain.

Intelligence has been received in Paris that Prince Hassan Pasha and all Egyptians have now returned to Egypt

Movement of British Troops

LONDON April 18.—The dispatch of troops from India to Malta is the leading topic of political discussion. It is regarded by supporters of the government as the only natural accompaniment of other precautionary measures and not indicative of belligerent intentions. Opponents of the government regard it as another step in the development of the warlike policy. They point to the fact that the news was announced the day after the parliament's adjournment for Easter recess thus preventing criticism or explanation of the measure for three weeks. The opinion is expressed that this is one of the determinations of the cabinet Lord Derby referred to in his remarks in the house of lords on the San Stefano treaty as causing his resignation of the foreign secretaryship

It is reported they will be shortly commissioned for coast defense relieving the seagoing ships now acting as a coast guard

Shipment of Ammunition

A chartered steamer left Plymouth yesterday with 2 500 tons of ammunition and stores and 21 steam launches and torpedo boats for the Mediterranean fleet

Matters about the Congress

Accounts from Berlin and Vienna are still hopeful that the congress will meet shortly. The persistence with which England and Russia are maintaining their positions concerning the congress is held to mean that the difference is a radical one, and that each power sees in the proposal of the other an attempt to prejudice before hand the character of the congress hence probably a willingness of the St Petersburg cabinet to revert to Bismarck's idea of the congress discussing the treaties of 56 and 71, rather than that of San Stefano. If this suggestion is acceptable to England the difficulty of the assembling of congress without wounding Russia's dignity might be easily overcome but the belief does not gain ground that the congress will succeed in averting war, even if it ever met Turkish Cabinet Crisis.

The cabinet crisis at Constantinople continues. A reconstruction of the cabinet is said to be impending but no successor to Ahmed Vefyk Effendi is mentioned. The contest is between England and Russia for the supremacy

Turko-Montenegrin Affray.

VIENNA April 18—Intelligence is received that an affray between Turks and Montenegrins has taken place near Podgoritza. The Turks violated the line of demarcation and the Montenegrins attacked some Turkish villages loss trifling

Russia's Claims

There is reason to believe as to Asia that Russia regards the possession of Batoum and Kars as of vital importance and would probably consent to modify the proposed frontier so as not to cut the road from Persia to Trebizonde. She might also permit division of Bulgaria into principalities and allow an international commission to define the southern frontiers. It is said that while Russia won't allow the treaty to be ignored she will not permit any of its clauses to hinder a satisfactory solution

Raising to War Strength

LONDON April 18—Orders have been received at Chatham to raise all infantry regiments there to full war strength by Monday. The regiments are now waiting for orders to embark fully equipped for the field

Decidedly Pacific and Why.

A correspondent at St Petersburg says The situation is decidedly pacific. Bismarck's Terms of Mediation

BERLIN [illegible] The [illegible] Berlin special states that Bismarck at the pressing request of Count Andrassy has consented to resume negotiations for the congress on condition that [illegible] are [illegible] by Austria England and Russia. The good will of Russia is indubitable but is feared [illegible] and may prolong the present state of uncertainty by obstructing [illegible] Germany's assistance or by formulating reservations

What Turkey will Give for her Capital.

[illegible] April 18 The Turks declare the [illegible] Shumla Varna and Batoum if the Russians will withdraw from the neighborhood of Constantinople. The Russians only offer to evacuate Erzeroum and the question causes a tension of relations

Politics of the New Cabinet

The politics of Saydk Pasha the new president of the Turkish council, have not been declared. The Russians claim the overthrow of Vefik Effendi as a triumph. The palace however has telegraphed to Layard that the change is without political significance. Layard is at Ismid. According to advices received in Paris he has gone there to confer with Admiral Hornby relative to the defence of the Bosporus

The following appointments were made Minister of foreign affairs Safvet Pasha minister of war Izzat Pasha minister of marine [illegible] Pasha minister of finance Kiamil Pasha. The sultan has issued an order advising Saydk Pasha to observe the constitution and carry out the reforms

LONDON April 18—The political character of the new Turkish ministry is uncertain but it is noteworthy that it does not include Reouf and Osman Pashas reputed leaders of the pro-Russian party and that Turkish newspapers again assert that the government will resist the occupation of Constantinople by any foreign power

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

A Moscow Riot

LONDON April 18—There have been Nihilist riots in the streets of Moscow the nature and extent of which it is impossible to determine from official reports. The alleged treason was the arrival of fifteen students from the University of Kieff going into exile whom the crowd surrounded crying "These men suffer for truth!"

The Magnitude of the Labor Strike.

LONDON April 18—The total number of looms in the striking district is 212 000 of a total of 470 000 in the kingdom. The determination of the operatives and unanimity of employers will not be fully tested until Tuesday or Wednesday next when all notices will have expired

Trial of Vera Sassulitch

BERLIN April 18—At the trial to day of Vera Sassulitch at St Petersburg she admitted the shooting [illegible] M Trepow and said she fired without caring whether she killed wounded or missed him, but with the determination to bring his conduct before the public. She herself had spent the best years of her life in a dungeon because she was a friend of a relative of a conspirator. There she learned to pity those who suffered in a similar manner. When she read in newspapers how M Trepow had caused political prisoners to be flogged she determined to do vengeance on him. The speech of defendant's counsel and the verdict of acquittal despite the judge's charge evoked such expressions of applause from the press and people that it is believed the government will modify the present system of trials for political offenses. The outbreaks at St Petersburg Moscow and Kieff which followed the news of the woman's trial are said to have been so serious as to give rise to reports in Berlin that a revolution had broken out

The Post commenting on this news says Russia is threatened with serious dangers. The lesson the trial of Vera Sassulitch affords will be fatal if disregarded

She is about 36 years of age a native of West Virginia and leaves three children. Three cuts were found across her throat but not of a serious nature. Blood was found on the bed and some of her clothes which were found in a bucket in the sink pointing toward foul play. A razor was found with traces of blood on it and a cloth with which it had been wiped was found near it. Everything about the place gave evidence of her destitute circumstances. The body was taken to the morgue where the coroner will hold an inquest this evening. Her husband John O'Neill was taken into custody and is held to await the result of the inquest

NEVADA.

Fatal Fall.

VIRGINIA Nev., April 18—A carman named Charles F Harvey fell down the winze in the California this morning and died half an hour after Death of John Randall.

John Randall chairman of the board of county commissioners died to day

The Strike in Savage.

The Evening Chronicle says The recent ore discovery in the Savage is on an entirely new ledge which lies still further east than what is commonly known as the east ledge. Its general course appears to be from northeast to southwest, and it looks as though it must have branched off from the main Comstock somewhere near the north end of Hale & Norcross. A north drift was started at noon yesterday in the Savage on the foot wall of the crosscut to the new development and a south drift was started from the same point to day. These drifts will be continued as long as it shall be necessary to develop the new find crosscuts being made every fifty feet or so. The east crosscut ran through hard ground for the first ninety feet from the main [illegible]. The formation then changes to regular vein matter with flaky streaks of [illegible] [illegible] until the east wall which precedes the [illegible] cut through. This ground [illegible] and liable to disintegrate so that [illegible] has been necessary to retimber all the way from the hard ground. The [illegible] be completed by to morrow [illegible]

The Flooded Mines

The water was below the [illegible] level of Savage and the Hale & Norcross [illegible] being [illegible] three to five [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] which had been [illegible] on the 2,000 [illegible] until a small [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] This drift is being put in good working order preparatory to cross cutting at the Hale & Norcross. The proposition to start one or more crosscuts to prepare for the new ore body is under consideration. The water is all out of the 2100 foot level and if the north drift is not in too bad condition a joint crosscut will be started on the Savage and Norcross line. As there is no drift on the 2 100 level of Savage, this work must be done by the Hale & Norcross Company. At the Gould & Curry every nerve is strained to drain the 1 900 level and get it in working shape. As soon as this is done four east and west crosscuts will be started, as follows one on the Best & Belcher and Curry line another on the Curry and Savage line, and two at intermediate points. These will be run both east and west from the main drift. The expense of running the joint crosscuts will be shared equally by the companies in whose ground they are run. The ledge trends as shown in the Savage mine, east. The crosscuts must be driven at least 800 feet before they can be reasonably expected to strike it

BEEF CATTLE

NEED OF IMPROVED GRADES—TENDENCY OF THE MARKET—HINTS WHICH MAY BE PROFITABLY STUDIED BY STOCK RAISERS OF OREGON

[From the Chicago Drover's Journal]

We do not know that there has ever been a time when the live stock men of the west and southwest were so strongly urged to improve the blood of their beef cattle as they are now, nor has there ever been a time when they could have made the improvement with less cost than at this moment. During the last few months the prices of all but the best cattle have been low in the western markets and there has been nothing of late to warrant a hope that better times are soon coming. This has been ascribed, from time to time to various causes, but few, if any, have given as a reason the fact that the greater part of the steers put upon the western markets are sadly lacking in style and condition. A large part of the receipts here is composed of steers of medium weights rather more than half fat, and sadly lacking in that which good breeding alone will give. Just now this description of cattle are particularly hard to sell because they have to compete in eastern markets with the high grade cattle going forward in great numbers from Tennessee from Kentucky, from Virginia, from Southern Ohio and Indiana. Within a few years Tennessee and Virginia have made great progress in cattle raising, and are now able to furnish nearly all the beeves Baltimore, Philadelphia and some other eastern cities want during the winter months. The stock they send forward is it is true, as a rule grass fattened, but that is no disadvantage to the feeder. The beef is in prime condition when it reaches the markets named, having had but a short run. The fat is evenly distributed throughout the flesh instead of being as it is in the majority of our western steers nearly all next the skin and the butchers will of course buy the cattle when they can get them at even a considerable advance over the prices they would be called upon to pay for western steers.

An idea of the extent to which the western feeder is suffering from the competition of the states named is given by the fact that one day last week, when the receipts of cattle in Baltimore were 1,900, Tennessee had 400 head there, Virginia 100, while southern Ohio and Indiana made up the bulk of the other five hundred. If this condition of affairs is bad for us now, what will it be hereafter, if nothing be done to enable western men to compete upon more equal terms with their Eastern rivals. The growth of the cattle business in the country mentioned has been great in more ways than one. We know of a valley in West Virginia where a few years after the close of the war, only a few scrubby cattle were to be seen. Now thousands of high grade bullocks are annually turned off by the farmers in that valley in prime condition. It is scarcely reasonable to expect that when so great an improvement has been made within a few years there will be any falling back into all the old ways.

A few years ago almost every family in the land used more or less pork. A change in diet came with the war and the masses used beef as being healthier pleasanter and not infrequently cheaper than pork. This winter there has been a radical change. People find that pork, fresh or cured, is cheaper than beef and thousands who have used very little pork since the war are now using it freely. The effect of this change on the profits of cattle owners has been plainly seen during the last three months, for none but the best stock has been selling for what are considered good prices.

That the Western farmer can hold his own against all the adverse influences mentioned by raising the grade of his cattle is shown by the fact that well bred steers are selling readily in this market at $5 to $5 60 per hundred weight while all other cattle are extremely hard to sell at prices ranging from $4 to $4 50. The English trade still offers advantages to those who have stock fit to send to the English markets and now there is opening to the breeder here a new market which promises to give a ready outlet at fair prices, for well bred young stock steers. Gentlemen from Germany are now here to inspect the Western cattle to make themselves acquainted with our mode of raising such stock and to inquire into prices and cost of transportation. They say that our high grade young steers will answer their purpose.

During the last year or two prices of thoroughbred breeding stock have come down to a level which puts good blood within the reach of every enterprising farmer. The cost is so light that an immediate profit is almost sure to come—an ultimate profit is beyond a doubt.

No farmer can afford to be constantly making changes with the expectation that one kind of stock will pay better than another. The fact is that the raising of either cattle, hogs, sheep or horses will pay if thought and energy are properly directed in striving to increase the quality of the stock. The markets are constantly fluctuating, but the average price for all kinds of live stock is sufficiently remunerative to make stock raising pay better in the long run than almost any other investment. The aim of all stock raisers should be to make a business of the business grow into it and remain in it. If he changes to any other business he loses much of the valuable experience that he has already gained in this.

There is such a thing as being "penny wise and pound foolish." Lack of success comes from thoughtlessness more than from anything else. No farmer can longer afford to raise low grades of scrubby cattle that will only bring, when sold, about half as much per hundred as choice cattle. It is much better and more profitable to keep eight or ten head of the right kind of cattle each year than twenty or thirty half-fed scrubs that require just as much time to feed and take care of as it does of the same number of shorthorn grades.

The market demand for better grades of stock is constantly increasing. Therefore it should be a primary object with all farmers who raise beef cattle to grade high up in the Durham blood. For beef purposes, the graded shorthorn steer of one-half three fourths or seven eighths blood at two years old past probably fills the demand with the most value for the cost and the most profit for the feed

FRIDAY MORNING APRIL 19 1878

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES.

It will do for those who are devoted exclusively to partisanship to go into raptures over the nominations of their party It is easy and cheap It costs much less than careful discrimination But they who view a political party as nothing in itself but only as a means to an end will content themselves with a more moderate style of expression They will not say without qualification that the nominations just presented are the best that any party ever made It will be enough if an impartial examination finds in the candidates a fair degree of fitness and capability for the positions to be filled and the trusts to be discharged In speaking of the Democratic candidates the other day we willingly conceded to the men named for the leading places the possession of respectable qualifications therefor and nothing less could now be said for the Republican candidates even by political opponents if they would allow themselves to speak with freedom and fairness

Under the state government the most important positions are those held by the governor and by the secretary of state Each has his special duties, and apart from these they have much to do together in directing the administrative affairs of the state The Republican candidates for these positions, as well as for that of state treasurer are men of business habits and reputation In this regard they cannot suffer by comparison with any persons in the state either in public or private life and if the integrity of any one of them has ever been questioned we have never heard of it The candidate for state printer may be expected, if elected to perform the service fairly and well Prof Powell, who is named for superintendent of public instruction has had long experience as an educator To any man who may be named for any position there will always be individual objections These it is not our province to meet It will do for the thick and thin partisan to claim for his candidates absolute perfection For others it is enough to know that they are men whose character gives assurance that they will discharge their trusts with ordinary ability and fidelity

Candor requires us to say that the nomination for congress does not meet our fullest approval, and yet Republicans should support it, because of important possible consequences It would have been altogether proper to have returned Mr Williams to congress He has labored with earnestness intelligence and fidelity Our state will never obtain the influence in congress which it ought to strive for until it learns to keep its representatives long enough in that body to enable them to obtain an experience and standing among its members. This is one reason Another is founded on considerations that refer to Mr. Hines himself, for whom we have great personal regard, and whom we regret to see placed in a position which must occasion him embarrassment, and of which the fitness will inevitably be questioned not only by opponents, but also by friends who deem it a duty nevertheless to support him In order to be frank with the public and with ourselves we are compelled to say this much and yet, on account of personal regard for Mr. Hines, we should have been extremely glad to see a way by which we might have avoided saying it. Eastern Oregon appears to have demanded the congressman and the demand was conceded by the convention without inquiring whether that part of the state had the fittest candidate to offer Mr Hines is a man of ability, he is a forcible speaker and a writer of acknowledged powers and if elected, will not be inferior as a member to those whom the state has been accustomed to send. He knows the state thoroughly, no man better Over every part of it he has traveled repeatedly, and has obtained intimate acquaintance with it and an intelligent knowledge of its wants, which would be useful to himself and the state in case he should be elected.

The coming election should not be so much a struggle for possession of the state offices as an effort to overthrow a system What system we mean will be apparent to every person who considers what great departures have been made in our state government from simple and economical methods of administration. Of this tendency and its results the people rightly complain We believe there is better promise of success in the effort to secure needed reform by electing the Republican than the Democratic ticket. It is not usual to find those who have originated abuses voluntarily abandoning them

SIMPLE WAYS AT DEADWOOD

Festivities at Deadwood have given that place a national reputation Not many days since Wm H Clagett, a noted lawyer was cross questioning a witness with his usual vigor and pertinacity when the child of nature who occupied the witness stand having made up his mind that the thing had gone about far enough, whipped out a navy revolver and proposed to shoot the offending lawyer Mr Clagett suspended his remarks for the moment, the jury awakened and began to take notes of the proceedings the spectators retired right and left out of range, and the judge looked with amazement upon the unusual proceeding One of the bystanders a man of peaceful not to say pacific habits, stepped forward as a friend of both parties and suggested the untimely nature of the demonstration, closing his remarks with a proposition that the matter should be settled at another time and place The offended witness was not deaf to the suggestion being as the local chronicler puts it, "a gentleman of generous and noble impulses," and so the court and jury and spectators and the general bar, including Mr. Clagett, were spared the sight and sense of an effusion of gore At the solicitation and interference of friends a truce was effected later in the day and the story would have ended with a reconciliatory drink at the nearest available bar but for the fact that the court must needs vindicate its outraged dignity by sending the witness to jail for contempt And this action of the court is what puzzled the law abiding citizens of the gulch Some of them found it very difficult to construct a case of contempt of court out of a mere demonstration on a lawyer If he had drawn on the judge said an honest miner it would have been contempt of course. But he never pointed it at the judge at all The discussion still rages and promises to agitate the camp all summer

ILLUSTRATED JOURNALISM

In a New York journal we notice a report of an interesting lecture on this subject delivered recently in London by a venerable draughtsman named Simpson who ventures to predict that before many years all the leading dailies will be more or less illustrated Within a few years great progress has been made in the art, and it is now wonderfully rapid Having traced the progress of pictorial illustration from the copper plate to lithography and from lithography to the wood block he referred to the London Illustrated News which came into existence in 184 and had since then published 40,000 pictures illustrative of the current history of the world A recent achievement was an engraving of the sortie from Plevna the block containing two hundred pieces of wood That journal alone employs twelve draughtsmen and about fifty wood engravers So rapid and skillful are the workmen who follow the business that a drawing received at six o clock in the evening has been engraved in time for the whole issue of a leading London daily next morning The facility already reached leads to the conclusion that pictorial illustration will in time become a leading feature of daily journals

When Howe made his late speech in the senate against the administration it was admitted on all sides that it was the opening gun of a general onslaught to be made on President Hayes Conkling and Blaine it was supposed would follow immediately But as no response was made to Howe's speech the attack was not at once followed up In consequence the supposition grew that no more senatorial wrath would effervesce But all predictions have been set at fault once more by Conkling's furious attack, which exceeds Howe's in bitterness as much as Conkling surpasses Howe in ability and force The war is reopened but what the assailants expect to accomplish does not clearly appear

Great complaint reaches us daily of the irregularity of the mails from Portland south From many points we have letters complaining of the non arrival of THE OREGONIAN Packages frequently go through and come back This must be amended Is the fault with the route agents or whose fault is it?

The land office at Colfax W T was opened April 5th From that day till April 11th inclusive, 21 618 acres of land were entered This well illustrates the rush for lands in the Palouse country

AMOUNT OF GREENBACKS

PORTLAND April 18 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I notice in your issue of yesterday morning that Mr G W Lawson makes the statement that in 1866 (January 1 the public debt amounted to $2 807 319 257 99 which is probably correct but when he asserts, if he intends to that at that time $1 808 317 191 42 was a circulating medium in the sense that it was a non interest bearing circulating medium he is greatly mistaken He adds the circulating medium reported each year for 1864 1865 and 1866 together and calls it the circulating medium at one time in circulation during the year whereas the average circulation each year was without fractional currency about $430 000 000 He further states from other authority before him that in 1865 6 the circulating medium in greenbacks without other moneys amounted to $1 908 64 400 This is entirely a mistake I do not think Mr Lawson intends to make a misstatement but his authority is certainly incorrect.

I find in the official report of the comptroller of the currency that the public debt reached its maximum on August 31 1865 when it amounted to $2 845,907 6,6 composed of the following forms of indebtedness

Funded debt	$1 109 568 192
Matured debt	1,503 020
Temporary loans	107,148 713
Certificates of debt	85 093 000
Five per cent outstanding notes	33 954,230
Compound interest bearing notes	217 024,160
Notes bearing 7 3 10 per cent interest	830 000 000
Suspended requisitions uncalled for	2 111 000
	$2 386 402,315
Legal tender notes	$433 160,569
Fractional currency	36 344 742
Making in circulation proper not bearing interest	469 505 311
Total debt	$2 845,907 6,6

At this time this circulating medium was worth 69 32-100 in gold on the dollar or say 70c which would equal in value $321 653 71 gold On Dec 1, 1877 legal tender notes outstanding ... $351 340 288 Fractional currency outstanding ... 18 540 020

Total ... $369 880 308 On that date currency was worth in gold 97c which would equal in gold value $358 801 808

It will be observed that the value in gold at this date or the purchasing power of the amount of currency in circulation is over $35 000,000 more than it was when the circulation was $469 505 311 Practically the advance in the value of the currency inflates the circulating medium to just the extent that it purchasing power is increased Add to this the amount of silver now being issued and the amount of bank circulation which has been increased since Aug. 31, 1865 namely $144 417 770 and we find that the currency of the country in purchasing power has been inflated about $220 000 000 so there is absolutely a surfeit of money We must remember all kinds of goods and products are very much cheaper than in 1865 and it does not take so much money in the eastern states to move crops as it did in war times. The people in the Atlantic states are suffering from overproduction and want of market for their products Money is plenty but what they sell brings extremely low prices with the exception perhaps of farm products

NEARLY A RAILROAD ACCIDENT The wes side train while moving north and when near bridge No 1 Wednesday narrowly e caped being ditched A horse belonging to Mr W W Spaulding the butcher escape from that gentleman and started up the track Several gentlemen attempted to catch the an imal but it fled The horse ran along on the track until reaching the bridge and in a tempting to cross on the narrow plank la between the rails slipped through the tie and could not extricate himself Mr Spau ding and several other persons started afte the animal but before proceeding far they heard the train approaching To prevent an accident one of the young men ran up the track as rapidly as he could to warn the train which very soon came shooting from around a curve The young man began to swing his hat and shout when the engineer called for brakes Not a moment was to be lost for only a short distance beyond could be plainly seen the horse The brakes were vigorously applied and the train was brought to a halt when only a few rods from the an mal The bridge was quite high and the re sult had not the engineer been timely warned cannot be considered without a shud der The horse being fast between the tie would have inevitably thrown the locom tive and probably the entire train from the track and a frightful railroad disaster would have to be chronicled Before the horse could be extricated several of the ties had to be cut and the animal let down through to the ground The train was delayed nearly three-quarters of an hour The horse escape with only a few scratches It was a very na row escape from a terrible accident.

AN ANCIENT CHURCH.—To Rev A E Fridrichsen of East Portland, we are in debted for the following sketch of an ancient church A church in Norway being at least 600 years old was destroyed by fir Sunday, March 3d, this year It was spoke of in a record from A D 1227, by a receive of tithes The conflagration took place before the congregation had gathered in, just afte the sexton had rung his first bell calling to divine service, and in less than one hou and a half made the steeple to fall, together with the bell The holy vessels and imple ments, together with the pulpit, some pews and the most important part of the organ is reported to have been saved. Now there re mains only the heavy walls of granite as a monument of that holy building in which, during centuries, many thousands have in their infancy been adopted to Christ, and later in the time of maturity have been publicl received into church in the presence of the whole congregation, by repeating for the pastor of the church the vow given in their infancy by their sponsors. In the same place has also many thousands of matrimonial connections been solemnized until the very latest time when the law now allows dissenters to make use of a civil magistrate to perform the marriage ceremony, and recog nizes it to be a legal one only by answering him that they have concluded, to be man and wife

MUCH ABUSED SILVER DOLLAR.—Of course nearly all the readers of THE OREGONIAN have seen the new and much abused silver dollar which has recently been issued by act of con gress Some "sarkastic" fellow, writing from Washington to a St. Louis paper, gets off the following on the new coin. "I one will care fully and impartially inspect the new dollar and compare it with the "trade dollar," he must admit that the criticism is not unde served The writer says. "And now it is discovered that the 'blasted Englishman' who was selected to make the design for the new dollar made an awful botch of the thing. The engraver at the mint at Philadelphia got up a design, which is now admitted by Sher man and Linderman to be prettier than the one accepted from the English engraver. The dollar as produced by the Englishman has the eagle's wings inverted, showing clearly his disrespect for the national bird Then he places periods between the words "E Pluribus Unum." And still again, the head of the goddess of liberty on the new dollar represents a very homely and senti mental girl There is none of that glorious determination in her expression—her head is not erect. In short, she is not the girl a fel low would feel like fighting for. Then he has put a nightcap on the girl. It is all a de vice of the enemy to bring the dollar into ridicule

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—Mr. John O'Shea, the well-known butcher, and another person came near finding watery graves down the river Wednesday night. Hearing that the Quickstep was on the way up the river Mr O'Shea and his companion hitched on their boat to the ship Hertfordshire, which went down the river Wednesday. At Columbia city they met the Quickstep coming up in tow of the tug Ohioahna, and O'Shea and his boatman attempted to board that vessel They were not successful, and instead of coming alongside the vessel ran directly across her bow. The bark was under good headway, and on striking O'Shea's boat broke it in twain, throwing the two men into the water It was very dark at the time, but fortunately O'Shea and his companion caught hold of the anchor which was hanging low They contrived to cling to the "emblem of hope until ropes were lowered and the two men were hauled up on the vessel It was a very close call, for had the anchor not been hanging low enough for them to grasp hold they would have perished beyond doubt before assistance could have reached them.

SAD ACCIDENT.—From Mr W Sampson we learn of a very sad accident which oc curred near Needy postoffice, in Clackamas county, last Saturday. Two little girls, aged respectively about five and three years daughters of Mrs. J. R. Taylor, a widow lady while playing about a fire built among some logs and stumps near their mother's residence, attempted to stir up a fire which was smoulder ing in a hollow stump. As the two children were near the stump the wind, or some other cause sent the flames out against them and the clothes of the younger caught fire. The mother heard the little one's screams and ran to her relief but when she reached the flames were enveloping the little one and had already done their fatal work. Mrs Taylor, with a mother's carelessness of danger when her offspring need help, tore off the burning clothes, getting also badly scorched herself But alas! the help came too late, the little one being so terribly burned that she lingered about five hours in the greatest pain and then passed to a realm of peace and rest and freedom from all pain

THE FATAL FIFTH SHIP.—In a late number of the Indianapolis News we find the follow ing paragraph Col LeRoy Woods, who was a passenger on the ill fated vessel General Miller which was lost in the Pacific Ocean off San Francisco a few days ago, left his home in Richmond Indiana on the 1st of Febru ary for Alaska. He has only been married a few months A day or two before his depart ure he remarked to a friend in this city in re marked to a friend in this city in response to an inquiry as to the probable length of his absence from the states Well I can't tell I may never come back One out of every five ships that sail from Frisco to Alaska go to the bottom and it will be just my luck to find that fifth ship He found it. Mrs Woods was intending to follow her husband to his far off home in early summer

THE REHEARSAL.—The rehearsal held at the rooms of the Amateur Musical society last evening under the direction of Mr W H Kinross for the concert to take place on the evening of the 30th inst was attended by about sixty of the best vocalists ladies and gentlemen in the city Miss Jennie Rosen ... and Prof ... and ... NEARLY A RAILROAD ACCIDENT The west side train, while moving north and when near bridge No. 3 Wednesday narrowly escaped being ditched A horse belonging to Mr W W Spaulding the butcher escaped from that gentleman and started up the track. Several gentlemen attempted to catch the animal but failed The horse ran along on the track until reaching the bridge and in attempting to cross on the narrow plank in between the rails slipped through the ties and could not extricate himself Mr Spaulding and several other persons started after the animal but before proceeding far they heard the train approaching To prevent an accident one of the young men ran up the track as rapidly as he could to warn the train which very soon came shooting from around a curve. The young man began to swing his hat and shout when the engineer called for brakes Not a moment was to be lost, for only a short distance beyond could be plainly seen the horse The brakes were vigorously applied, and the train was brought to a halt when only a few rods from the animal. The bridge was quite high and the result, had not the engineer been timely warned, cannot be considered without a shudder. The horse being fast between the ties would have inevitably thrown the locomotive and probably the entire train from the track, and a frightful railroad disaster would have to be chronicled Before the horse could be extricated several of the ties had to be cut, and the animal let down through to the ground. The train was delayed nearly three-quarters of an hour The horse escaped with only a few scratches. It was a very narrow escape from a terrible accident

AN ANCIENT CHURCH—To Rev A P Fridrichsen, of East Portland we are indebted for the following sketch of an ancient church "A church in Norway being at least 600 years old was destroyed by fire Sunday, March 3d, this year It was spoken of in a record from A D 1327 by a receiver of tithes. The conflagration took place before the congregation had gathered in, just after the sexton had rung his first bell calling to divine service, and in less than one hour and a half made the steeple to fall, together with the bell. The holy vessels and implements, together with the pulpit, some pews and the most important part of the organ is reported to have been saved Now there remains only the heavy walls of granite as a monument of that holy building in which during centuries, many thousands have in their infancy been adopted to Christ and later in the time of maturity have been publicly received into church in the presence of the whole congregation, by repeating for the pastor of the church, the vow given in their infancy by their sponsors In the same place has also many thousands of matrimonial connections been solemnized until the very latest time, when the law now allows dissenters to make use of a civil magistrate to perform the marriage ceremony, and recognize it to be a legal one only by answering him that they have concluded to be man and wife."

MUCH ABUSED SILVER DOLLAR—Of course nearly all the readers of THE OREGONIAN have seen the new and much abused silver dollar which has recently been issued by act of congress. Some "sarkastic" fellow, writing from Washington to a St. Louis paper, gets off the following on the new coin. If one will carefully and impartially inspect the new dollar and compare it with the "trade dollar," he must admit that the criticism is not undeserved. The writer says 'And now it is claimed that the 'boasted Englishman who was selected to make the design for the new dollar made an awful botch of the thing. The engraver at the mint at Philadelphia got up a design, which is now admitted by Sherman and Linderman to be prettier than the one adopted from the English engraver The dollar as produced by the Englishman has the eagle's wings inverted, showing plainly his disrespect for the national bird. Then he places periods between the words "E Pluribus Unum" And still again, the head of the goddess of liberty on the new dollar represents a very homely and sentimental girl. There is none of that glorious animation in her expression—her head is a wreck. In short, she is not the girl a fellow would feel like fighting for Then he puts a nightcap on the girl. It is all a device of the enemy to bring the dollar into disrepute."

DESERTION—Matt Pell one of the seamen employed on the barkentine Portland was arrested yesterday on complaint of Capt Gage charged with desertion Last Monday Bell got drunk and quitting the vessel refused to return to it when requested to do so by the captain He became so boisterous that at length a police officer arrested him and put him in jail His term being out yesterday he was taken from the city jail and brought before U S Commissioner [illegible] After a preliminary hearing Bell was held to answer the charge and was tried later in the day before Judge Deady

ONE MORE TRIAL—Yesterday morning, Charles Barrett was again brought before the authorities on a charge of lunacy After examining him and consulting for some time it was concluded to give the unfortunate inebriate one more trial He was allowed to depart on making a solemn promise to abstain in the future from drink How well Charley will keep his promise remains to be seen One of two things should be done by the proper authorities—he ought to be sent to the asylum or else have a guardian appointed Assassination.

[From the Seattle Dispatch]

The people of Orcas Island were terribly shocked last Sunday morning (the 7th inst) by the finding of the dead body of Wm O Donnell one of their most respected citizens He was a bachelor living alone on his ranch a mile or more from any neighbor He had not been seen for more than two weeks but no alarm was taken as every one was busy farming and supposed him to be the same Two of his neighbors however who had expected him to meet an engagement, went to his house Sunday morning and found it to have been robbed Further search discovered the dead body of O Donnell hid under a pile of rails in his field To all appearances he had been dead two weeks Justice Gifford was summoned and acting as coroner held an inquest The body was then respectably interred by friendly hands the Rev Mr Hewett reading the burial service The verdict of the coroner's jury was "shot dead in the breast while at work in his field by party or parties unknown"

A large reward was immediately subscribed by the citizens and offered for the arrest and conviction of the assassin Suspicion pointing directly to a renegade Siwash from the British side a party started out in pursuit of him He is said to be in close hiding for many misdeeds both British and American Indians being on his track O Donnell in his last interview with one of his neighbors mentioned meeting a strange Siwash near his place who used insulting language to him O Donnell was about 40 years of age and a native of Ireland

Walla Walla [illegible] The question they ask on every direction Does Walla Walla county still aim to slip into Oregon?" Is this the reason why they acted so indifferently at the polls? No gentlemen We beg leave to assure you in the name of the people in whose midst we dwell Walla Walla wants to slip into nothing We are contented as we are for the present and believe in letting well enough alone That's the reason why

An Astonishing Fact

A large proportion of the American people are to day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism take the advice of druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower Your speedy relief is certain Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues with satisfactory results in every case You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try Three doses will relieve the worst case Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent.

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 19, 1878.

LETTER FROM PORT TOWNSEND.

PORT TOWNSEND, April 15, 1878.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

It has just occurred to me that some of your many readers would like to know what kind of a place this is, and whether it is a locality worth visiting or not, and for that purpose I shall intrude on your valuable space for a short time, with the hope that my poor efforts may be beneficial to some of the many

TOURISTS AND EMIGRANTS

Who are now anxiously looking for new scenes and homes, without knowing where they should look for them on the face of this great continent.

First of all, I would bring to the mind of your readers the fact that

PORT TOWNSEND

Is the city so sarcastically referred to by the great American traveler, J. Ross Brown, in his "Crusoe's Island," as the "city built by whisky," and while I cannot either affirm or deny that everything he has stated was correct at that time, yet I must say that to-day no more civilized or pleasant locality can be found anywhere than Port Townsend, W. T. Although the affairs of the city are managed by a mayor and council, yet it is not the one who "can yell the loudest" that becomes the aforesaid mayor; neither are the "newspapers printed by means of wooden types whittled out of pine knots by the Indians and rubbed against the bottom of the editor's potato pot." That may have been the case in '49, but things have changed very much since then.

DESCRIPTION.

Port Townsend is the county seat of Jefferson county, and is situated on Quimper peninsula, at the entrance to Puget Sound from the Straits de Fuca, 65 miles from the Pacific ocean. Its harbor is a magnificent bay, four miles broad by six miles in length, giving good anchorage for the entire American navy if necessary, and with complete protection on every side from heavy gales of wind. The depth of the water is from eight to fifteen fathoms, and the bottom is soft and muddy. At the head of the bay is the military post, at present occupied by two companies of soldiers, the location being an admirable one for military purposes. The town may very properly be called the lower and upper districts, the principal residences, churches and school being situated on a high bluff overhanging the bay, while the lower town is almost entirely devoted to business, which includes the custom house, hotels, etc. The principal buildings are the marine hospital, Good Templars', Masonic, Odd Fellows' and Red Men's halls, while the following denominations have built neat edifices for public worship, viz., Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian and Catholic. The public school is well attended and carefully directed by a principal and two teachers, all of them ladies. Nearly every residence on the hill has a little garden or orchard attached, which gives it a pleasing and handsome look, but very different from the appearance Mr. Brown would give it when he says, "the public squares are curiously ornamented with dead horses, cows, etc." A beautiful sandy beach extends along the water front for miles, on which can be found many kinds of shells, rocks and mosses, while the view from the bluff, especially from a point called

THE CROW'S NEST

Is really sublime. On a clear day can be seen the Cascade and Olympic mountains, surmounted by the snowy peaks of Baker and Rainier, towering up thousands of feet above the level of the sea. The natural park which crowns the hill is a perfect labyrinth of walks and paths, and a delightful retreat in summer from the warm rays of the sun, but it must be seen to be properly appreciated. The tourist could spend weeks of sight-seeing here and still be anxious to see more of it, while the emigrant would find the country an admirable place in which to procure good land at government prices. Its advantages for

SHIP BUILDING

Are greater than those of any other part of the Sound, and are not likely to be overlooked in the future, especially as all foreign vessels have to report here. On the Chimiacum creek is a splendid mill site which is unoccupied at present, but will ye be found most valuable.

The bay is generally occupied by all kinds of vessels, and the P. M. S. S. Co.'s steamers Dakota and City of Panama call regularly here, so that the wharf is in constant requisition as a public resort, especially for business men.

As there will be a daily mail after July 1st, it is very probable that travel will be considerably increased which will always make things lively.

BROKE JAIL.

On Friday evening about 7 o'clock, while a terrific storm of hail and snow was raging, all the prisoners but one confined in the county jail broke out, by cutting a hole in the ordinary cell, and escaped over the wall without a sound being heard by the jailer, who was up stairs at the time. Unfortunately the sheriff, Mr. Miller, was absent in another part of the county assessing, at the time the escapade took place, and owing to that fact they were able to get off without any trouble. Amongst the four that escaped was the notorious murderer, Harry Sutton, who, through the leniency of American law (God forgive us for calling it such a name) was simply ordered to be confined in jail for five years, when the whole country knew he should have dangled from a rope's end. But then Mr. Sutton had been a gentleman once, and that of itself was sufficient to save him, when on the other hand Delaney (one who refused to escape with the rest), for the there killing of a man in self-defense, was sentenced to three years confinement. What does that look like? Simply that there must be one law for gentlemen and another for ordinary mortals.

Now, as the consequence of this short-sighted policy, a cruel, blood-thirsty monster is at large, and we shall not be surprised to hear of a few more murders pretty soon at his hands, and a host of lawyers ready to defend him in case he should be brought to trial. The names of the other prisoners were: Follier, a San Quentin escaped convict; Albright, a sailor, and a Nootsack Indian who was also in for murder. The quartette are supposed to be working their way towards Gray's harbor, as they are said to have been already seen at Shoalwater bay, so that it might be well for people to be on the lookout for them. Sheriff Miller, immediately on his return from the sound, offered a reward of $200 for their capture, and were it not for impediments thrown in his way by parties who should have been foremost in helping to retake them, he might probably now have had them safely under lock and key.

The blame for their escape can only be justly laid to the county for putting up such an insecure building and calling it a jail, but perhaps the idea was to give ventilation, by setting it on blocks standing several feet from the ground, and then putting up a little fence around it about seven feet high with a few spikes driven to prevent the poor fellows from hurting their delicate hands should they attempt to scale it. Anyhow, every effort is being made to discover their whereabouts, and it is hoped that the result may be successful, and if not, it is hard to tell what the consequence may be.

SHARP WEATHER.

A severe frost for the last two nights has, is feared, hurt the fruit crop in this vicinity, which is to be regretted, as it was already in full bloom.

BRASS BAND.

The band is being re organized under the superintendence of Mr. R. Hale White, which bids fair to make things pleasant during the summer. More anon.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin, he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians--he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.
